Deliver a seamless experience for HR and employees

Companies today have many systems in place to manage their business and people, but without a seamless integration between these systems, the HR and employee experience can suffer.

With the Saba Cloud integration with UltiPro, you can now quickly and easily connect your talent management system to your HRIS system. This enables you to securely and efficiently move data from UltiPro into Saba Cloud, as well as perform data transformations using Saba's powerful data mapping tool. As a result, you can deliver a more seamless experience for yourself and your employees, free up your resources and maximize HR's impact on the bottom line.

Connect to UltiPro in the Saba Marketplace to get the most out of your Saba investment!

1 Drag and drop the connector.

Saba offers a radically different approach to talent management. Instead of starting with technology, we focus first on an organization's vision and culture. Once we understand their needs, we provide people-centric solutions around performance, learning, and engagement that help them work, learn, and grow together to build a thriving future for the organization. Saba. United We Thrive.
